Applications for land for the cultivation of sagar, coffee, and other products were at present under the consideration of the court, who would give every support to any measure which for its object the introduction of new roducts. A scheme of considerable magnitude for building a rullway across the company's territory including the land grant system, was also ander discussion, but until matters were more advanced it would be premature to enter into details. Not much was done last year towards developing their mineral resources. but now that the Control Borneo Company had acquired mineral rights in the company's territory, they might hope that exploring expeditions would soon be organized to follow up the discoveries of gold which had been already made. Some progress had been made in reward to the discovery of coal.

Reports from Laboan spoke very hopefully of coal mines being opened up by the C-stral Borneo Campany, and there was every reseen to believe that the working of the same would add materially to the revenue of that colony, which was administered by this company. As to gold explorations, there were no doubt, difficulties to be overcome in exploring the interior of the country, but it had been demonstrated that there was nothing to prevent a well-equipped expedition from reaching and working the head waters of the Seguma. Next to tobacco came timber in their products, and this showed a great increase in the year. Negotiation were in progress which might lead to the formation of an exploration company, and possibly also to the establishment of a bank in North Hornen; and there was now a greater prospect than bitherto of the country being more thoroughly explored, and in the near future. A great stop had been taken in the past year in
